

Wallaby™ with Integrated Printer

For Self-Service Applications

Designed for configurability

Slim form factor

Purpose-built for commercial environments

Product Overview

Elo's Wallaby with Integrated Printer Self-Service Stands are available in two configurations - countertop or floor models, both help to simplify installation of interactive experiences in public, high-traffic environments. The sleek, space-saving stands available with black and white color options are designed to house a touchscreen in portrait or landscape, a variety of peripherals and an expansion module in a secure, cable free installation. By introducing these products into settings where engagement is essential, companies can create a unified approach to any customer experience in self-service including applications for self-order, self-checkout, endless aisle, price verification, loyalty programs, brand experience, fitting rooms, patient check-in, time clock applications and more. With the Wallaby stands, you can create a self-service solution with ease, complete with payment and printing capabilities.

Configuration options:

- wall or counter models
- black or white
- choose a 15- or 22-inch display
- portrait or landscape display mounting
- choose Android or Windows
- add payment devices & peripherals
- add a backer board for branding
